Friends of Poland - Let's first listen to what the Polish Information Center has to offer and then will follow the Polish Music you enjoy so much.

Have you read: While still we live - by Helen MacInnes? It now ranks among the best sellers.

R. Ellis Roberts in THE SATURDAY'S/
REVIEW OF LITERATURE wrote - quote - Helen MacInnes's new novel is by far her best ----
It is written with knowledge of all that Poland has been to Europe, and indignation
at the betrayal by Christendom of the people who are the bastion of Western culture in the East, the people who met and conquered the triumphant hordes of Islam. It is the story of a new Polish army of warriors,
nameless, hidden men and women, an army det ermined that their country shall live again,
an army as passionately devoted, as proud of their country's past, and as confident in its future as any in the world. END of quote.

Mind you Helen MacInnes is not Polish
- nor has she any Polish blood. As a matter of fact, she never even visited Poland.

Incidentally do you know where Helen MacInnes got ~~her title~~ the title for her book: While still we live? Americans of Polish ancestry should not have much trouble in recognizing it. Jeszcze Polska nie zginela, donoki my zyjemy. It is the latter half of the title of Poland's National Anthem - Poland is not lost, while still we live.

3
Very appropriately then we play Poland's National Anthem in tribute to Helen MacInnes's novel: While still we live.

Last Sunday Poznan (Posen) University celebrated its silver jubilee. Poznan University was born May 7th, 1919 amid the clash of arms and the roar of canon, when Poland was still engaged in the fight for liberation.

Mind you the project of creating a U at Poznan dates back over 200 years when in 1519 Bishop John Lubranski founded his famous school - the Lubranski Academy.

Despite Prussian opposition, the idea survived and took life after 200 years exactly - 1919.

Since September 1939, Poznan U has \times been closed to Polish students. All the scientific collections and instruments, as well as the library and even the professors' private libraries, have been confiscated by the German authorities, removed to Germany or destroyed.

Our good Mayor William F. Edelmuth informed me that Colonel McEntee of Sauger-ties - U.S.A. retired - is about to retire to West Point where he intends to isolate himself so as to devote a solid year in preparing a Polish History.

Colonel McEntee you have the good wishes and prayers of us Americans of Polish ancestry.

In your honor we play - WILCZEK POLKA - LITTLE WOLF POLKA.

→ Incredibly Colonel McEntee is not Polish, nor has he any Polish blood to my knowledge

By the way the eminent G. K. Chesterton once wrote: there is one people - the Poles - among all the people of Eastern Europe, upon whom Western Europe can really rely.
