1
Friends of Poland - , Yes, Lent is here. If you have entered into the spirit of Lent and attended the Lenten devotions, then you are now entitled to a little innocent recreation in the form of a polka for the speedy recovery of Mrs. Jos. Demski gardener. - Gilia - Red Finch bird.

3
One of our WACS visited Rome last September and among the many historical places she visited and described, were the CAVES, where - QUOTE - 336 political prisoners were killed by the Germans.

If you care to hear something gruesome, then listen to her own description of what she witnessed with her own eyes. QUOTE -

2
The Caves were horrible beyond description. Pictures and wreaths were hung in honor of the dead, near the entrance. The place was filled with the stench of rotting human flesh. A lot of the bodies have not been identified with the result that the place is filled with coffin upon coffin of entire or parts of the bodies. Some were not covered. And we saw legs, arms, skull teeth of those who cannot be brought together in one piece after dying as they did. We imagined we smelled of this foul odor for days after the visit. End of quote.

Lest the stench of these German atrocities foul your home, here's some mellifluous Polish music, for 3 generations of Madayewski's Grandfather Adelbert, his son Frank & Frank's daughter Phyllis whose birth days are today - Przybycie Kochanki Meeting of the Sure Hearts Polka.

Strange that these fiendish German atrocities, described a moment ago, should have attracted such world wide attention, when we recall the abattoirs of Poland, where thousands upon thousands of Poles were butchered - and the crematories where thousands upon thousands of Polish men, women and children were burned to ashes by these same self-styled German supermen.

It is for those who have managed to survive the cruel crunch of the Prussian heel, that we have been ~~appealing~~ pleading with you for clothes and financial aid.

To date, we have announced receipt of $220 for these homeless, clothless and foodless heroic men ~~and~~ women and children of Fighting Poland.

Today's contributing friends of Poland are: Mrs. Michalina Komasa $5; Mr. & Mrs. Charles Cole sr. $5; Mr. & Mrs. Frank Lukaszewski $5; Mr. & Mrs. Michael Augustyn $5; and a friend from Home St. $5.

Address your bundles to the I.C.School - and your mite to Yours Devotedly, Father Malinowski, in care of WKNY or I.C.Ch. Kingston N.Y.
